Dr. Latazia Stuart - DoctorTazz

Global Speaker | Fertility & Women's Health Consultant | Author, The Secrets of Faith INfertility
Educate. Empower. Empathize.

Dr. Latazia Stuart (DoctorTazz) is a powerful voice in women's health and family building, known for blending leadership, authenticity, education, research, and lived experience to bring both empathy and excellence to every initiative. After years of concealing her personal journey with infertility and multiple pregnancy losses in silence and shame, she now uses her voice and platform to break taboos, transform care, and empower others on their family-building journeys.

As a Doctor of Education and a seasoned academic leader with over 20 years in higher education, including leading remote online learning teams at healthcare focused universities, she seamlessly blends professional excellence with profound fertility insights and practical tools, especially crucial as infertility challenges continue to rise, now impacting 1 in 6 persons globally and pregnancy losses now impacting 1 in 4. (World Health Organization & Center for Disease Control, statistics respectively).—Dr. Tazz now champions fertility awareness, pregnancy loss support, and reproductive equity through keynote speaking, consulting, and community-based education.

She is the non-profit Founder of Fertility Empowerment International Inc. and host of the annual Fertility Empowerment International (FEI) Conference, a global event that gathers healthcare professionals, speakers, vendors, and attendees to explore issues of fertility, wellness, and empowerment—earning exceptional reviews for its impact and innovation.

Dr. Tazz creatively helps organizational leaders identify practical, holistic wellness and women's health strategies that improve retention and productivity. She speaks regularly at women's health and empowerment events, offering a compassionate yet strategic voice to support employees and communities navigating fertility, loss, and family-building journeys.
